

South Australia's forest industries have a significant presence in the Electorate of Mount Gambier, directly employing 1476 workers. It is vital for the continued growth of our forest industries that the local representative in the Parliament be a passionate advocate for them.

Our forest industries are united behind AFPA SA's strategic plan for the policy measures that will enable us to achieve this, and we will be supporting the candidates who best share this vision and commit to advocating for it within their parties and in the Parliament.

Please complete the below questionnaire so that the tens of thousands of forest industries workers across the state voting in the 17 March 2018 election know where you stand on these important matters.
